Welcome to Express Ranches

Honoring the Past, Advancing the Future

It is with respect for those who built the foundation that we stand on, appreciation for those who have stewarded the current operations and anticipation for the future that we embark on three days in October that will be a historic event in the Angus industry.

The saying that “the only constant in life is change” is so true—and we embrace it. Change brought Express Ranches to the Angus breed in 1996, change brought Express Ranches from almost exclusively focused on the showring to a cattle operation that is at the forefront of performance Angus genetics. Change is what brings us here today and opens a door to a true opportunity for those that take advantage of it. We have been invested in the Angus breed at every level for over 30 years after our purchase of the B&L herd. Over the years, we have embraced change as we worked to make our cattle better, improve Angus genetics and support our industry.

In February as we worked on the Honor Roll Sale and we talked about closing our show ring chapter, we truly believed we would be leaning into the other aspects of our business here at Express Ranches. The decision to sell the ranch, is what brings us here today. The sale of the ranch and dispersion of our herd, was a difficult and deeply personal decision for us. The decision was not made due to a lack of interest or passion for the cattle business, it was made as a management team tasked with working through challenges that were placed in front of us with a view toward making decisions that are in the best interest of future generations. While we are always so thankful for our Express Ranches team, since April 1 this has been a especially true. When the decision was made to disperse and sell the ranch, we met with everyone on the Express Ranches team and instead of worrying about themselves, they have leaned in, worked incredibly hard and showed a passion for this ranch that is second to none.

The core of Express Ranches hasn't been about the banners, the sales or the entertainment, it has been about an incredibly dedicated team of people who have spent most of their lives with commitment to the cattle industry and this ranch, not for financial gain or accolades but for the opportunity to be part of a team that has always tried to be the best that it can and it is this quality that makes this moment in time so bittersweet.

As we look forward to October, we are ready to welcome you and to assist you in your pursuit to make your herd better through this offering. We are proud of this offering and look forward to being with you in October as we truly believe that this offering provides so much opportunity and will be a historic event for our industry. We invite you to be with us as we bring this era to a close and we look forward to seeing the impact of this genetic base moving forward.

See you soon!

HERD HEALTH

Our herd-health program has been overseen by Dr. LD Barker of Professional Animal Health of Newcastle, OK, and covers all aspects of respiratory and reproductive challenges; and we have taken a proactive approach to our vaccination protocols. All calves receive 3 boosters of pertinent vaccines prior to one year of age. All mature animals then go on a yearly routine vaccination program prior to their breeding season along with de-worming twice annually. Contact Dr. Barker for any detailed information you might need to transition your purchases into your respective health programs.

TERMS

Terms of the sale are cash unless prior arrangements have been made with the Express Ranches staff. No animals will be transferred to the new owner until full payment has been received. Payment must occur before any cattle can be picked up or delivered. Animals will be sold in the auction to the highest bidder with the auctioneers settling any disputes. Animals become the property of the buyer concluding respective bidding. Animals will be cared for by the Express staff to the best of our ability until shipment, but Express Ranches assumes no risk during the period of post-sale and delivery. Neither Express Ranches nor any person affiliated with the auction assumes any liability, legal or otherwise.

GUARANTEE

All cattle sell under the premise of total dispersal with cattle selling as is. We will do our best to represent the cattle pertaining to breeding status, calving information, and any supplemental information. Please view the supplemental information pages sale day for the most current status on the respective lots selling.

DELIVERY / PICKUP

As stated in the terms, all cattle become property of the buyer after the gavel drops. The responsibility of delivery is solely the responsibility of the new owners. We have lined up several competent trucking companies to assist you and urge you to visit with them after your purchases have been paid for to arrange timely delivery. These companies will have representatives on hand and will be more than glad to visit with you to fulfill your needs. As always, we ask that you give detailed phone numbers and any pertinent information at checkout so we can get your purchases to you in the best possible way. Cattle purchased that the buyers would like to pick up themselves will be available anytime to do so. We will have crews stationed at various locations around the ranch based on day sold and will do our best to get you loaded in a timely manner. Vet and trucking assistance can be found in our main office. Please take care of payment and health paper needs after purchase to help streamline this process prior to going to load-out locations.

The Team at Express Ranches

Express Ranches Our Story

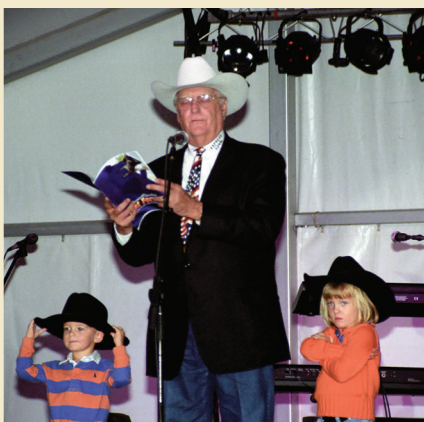

Express Ranches began in 1989, born from Bob Funk Sr.'s dream of "someday" owning cattle of his own after working on his uncle's dairy growing up in the State of Washington and his love of the West with its storied traditions. It began with the purchase of land northwest of Yukon that now holds the Express Ranches office and sale facility followed by his first purchases of Limousin cattle. This marked the early beginning of what would be transformed into one of the most respected operations in the seedstock industry.

The early years were built on people as much as cattle. Bill Couch joined the ranch in 1993, followed by Kevin Hafner and Donnie Robertson in 1994. Together, they assembled a team committed to excellence, quickly establishing Express Ranches as a force in the show ring and beginning to write its own chapter in the history of the beef business. That same year, Roy Middleton joined as embryologist, further evidencing—an investment in the future that would shape the herd for decades to come.

Growth continued in 1995 as Express Ranches officially became a member of the American Angus Association and it marked the addition of Angus with a presence in Express Ranch herd that grew rapidly. The purchase of B&L Angus Ranch in Shawnee, Oklahoma, expanded the ranch's reach and created new opportunities.

In 1996, Express Ranches hosted its first Angus sale in Shawnee, Oklahoma—a tradition that would grow into one of the premier events in the Angus breed. Jarold Callahan joined the organization as president that same year, bringing leadership that would leave an immeasurable mark on the ranch. It was also during this time that the foundation was laid for the championship-winning carload and pen shows that would become synonymous with the Express Ranches name.

The ranch continued to diversify in 1998 with the creation of Express Premium Beef Company, supplying high-quality beef throughout Oklahoma and Texas. Mark Squires joined the team as office manager in a position that quickly became focused data management in 1999, and the momentum continued into the new millennium. In 2000, Express Ranches became a founding member of ORigen Bull Stud, was one of the founding herds utilized in developing GEM and reinforced its commitment to genetic advancement. Dr. John Edwards joined the ranch in 2002 as vice president, continuing the legacy of innovation and leadership.

The years that followed brought added expansion with the purchase of the Rodrock Angus herd in Kansas in 2005 and Rolling RRR Ranch in 2007. Those investments helped establish Express Ranches as the nation's largest seedstock producer, an honor recognized by CattleFax from 2010 through 2018.

The year 2011 marked another milestone. Jarold Callahan was elected president of the American Angus Association, a reflection of the respect he had earned throughout the industry. Express Ranches began an unprecedented run as ROV Breeder of the Year, receiving the honor every year from 2011 through 2025. Committed to staying at the forefront of genetic progress, the ranch submitted its first genomic sample in 2011 and embraced Whole Herd Reporting with the American Angus Association. To date, nearly 29,000 genomic samples have been tested.

Express Ranches was a founding co-owner of Xcel Feedyard in Watonga, Oklahoma in 2014 and involved in its operations from 2014 to 2022. Express Ranches also integrated Xcel's services into its bull development program which continues through today. Express Ranches involvement in Xcel further strengthened its integration in the beef industry.

When the COVID-19 pandemic brought the country to a standstill, Express Ranches continued pressing forward finding ways to continue its operations and supporting others in the industry. In the Fall of 2020, a number of livestock exhibitions were canceled, threatening to bring commerce in the purebred cattle industry to a standstill. Responding to these concerns, Express Ranches along with many others dedicated to ensuring the future of the purebred seedstock industry stepped forward to serve the industry. In the fall of 2020, Cattlemen's

Congress became a reality, with the inaugural event held in January 2021 and record setting participation by exhibitors. What began as a solution during uncertain times has grown into one of the premier cattle events in the nation—a lasting legacy for cattle producers everywhere.

The year 2023 was one of tremendous highs and profound loss. The annual Big Event Sale set a record, surpassed $8 million, reflecting the confidence and support of customers and friends across the industry. Jarold Callahan was inducted into the prestigious Saddle & Sirloin Club, recognizing a lifetime of contributions to the beef business. Tragically, a short time later, the Express family lost Jarold—a leader, mentor, and dear friend whose influence will continue to be felt for generations.

2024 was a year of leaning into the people and culture that built this ranch. With his father's declining health Bob Funk Jr. stepped in to a more active role with Express Ranch as one of the family's core businesses. He tapped Donnie Robertson and Kevin Hafner, both with over 30 years of experience in multiple roles with Express Ranches, to lead the way. The three worked closely to carry the ranch forward and they continued to build on the foundation that had been laid with successful sales and positive impact on the industry.

In July of 2025, Express Ranches lost its founder, Bob Funk Sr. In the month following Bob's passing, the Express Ranches team pulled together in a way that would have made Bob proud, building his gravesite and saying farewell to him in a fitting tribute all the while pressing forward with preparation for the 2025 Big Event Sale scheduled for August 15th and 16th. In 2025, the Big Event Sale surpassed the record set in 2023, grossing over $9 million over two remarkable days.

As 2026 unfolded the final Honor Roll Heifer Calf Sale was held as Express Ranches continued to emphasize its focus on performance Angus. Bryan Brewster whose tenure was committed to building and maintaining Express Ranches retired in March after more than 30 years of dedicated service

In April, the decision to disperse was made and the Express Ranches team began to prepare for its dispersal sale in October. Even with a dispersion on the horizon, milestones continued to be reached, with more than 50,000 Angus cattle registered through the American Angus Association, nearly 45,000 weaning records submitted, and more than 29,000 individual ultrasound records collected—testament to a steadfast commitment to genetic progress and data-driven improvement.

In March 2027, Express Ranches will host its final Spring Bull and Female Sale, bringing to a close an extraordinary 38-year journey. What began with one man's dream grew into one of the most influential seedstock operations in the country. Along the way, lifelong friendships were forged, countless families were impacted, and genetics carrying the Express brand found homes across the United States and around the world.
